

NEWSLETTER volume fifty one

MARCH 2010

We would like to welcome Vidette back to the office after four months maternity leave. We are sure her clients missed her just as much as we did. Vidette will be working on a half-day basis from now on, in order to spend more time at home with the children.

We would also like to congratulate the winners of our Facebook Competition: Erika van der Merwe and Zoue Gillard. For those of you that missed out on this one, remember to join our Facebook Page, as we will be giving away more prizes in the next few weeks.

March has been a very busy month for our corporate gifting division and we would like to thank Business Partners and Old Mutual for placing a large number of orders.

As always, this newsletter is filled with interesting, new and exciting venues and suppliers. Remember that we have a number of public holidays in April, so please place your orders and send your enquiries as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.

We look forward to hearing from you!

THE TEAM

Georgia Koffinas – our second Conference Complete baby.

Set on the lip of a fashioned white beach at Granger Bay, adjacent Cape Town's V&A Waterfront, this stunning venue is where beach culture meets free-spirited, eclectic, romantic décor of oversize chandeliers, antique Indian rugs, Parisian café chairs and open windows to the deck and sea.

It is also where top cuisine; service and style flourish in an astonishing destination. Proposing a chic, bistro-styled menu for both lunch and dinner, old and new classics combining in a new-world fusion of beach café cuisine.

MAGNIFICENT NEW VENUE

This wonderful venue is a true village with its own restaurant and conference facilities - but most importantly - it is a village energized by Willy's gorgeous collection of contemporary art, some of which is made on the farm and many sourced from all over Southern Africa. Absolutely irresistible and part of the decoration for guests to enjoy.

Funky sheep greet you upon arrival and playful springbok browse near the terrace of your room. The architecture of the 31 luxury suites may be one of the traditional Cape Dutch Karoo style, but the real value lies within the walls made of sand bags and straw bales. Few things beat the pleasure of a wholesome meal in an elegant farm-style décor. In summer, you will want to stretch lunch until sunset on the terrace overlooking the gardens. And in winter, dinner around the hearth is a wonderful way of engaging in enjoyable conversations until late in the night. Discover the rugged kloof, enjoy a sundowner at the hide or swim in the natural rock pool – and watch in awe as the six pairs of endangered Black Eagles soar above their nests on the sun-baked rocks.

Walk, run or ride your mountain bike on this 200ha of pristine Karoo veld. Or just be lazy at the swimming pool in the heart of the Hotel Village.

BOOK D-SEVEN FOR YOUR NEXT EVENT

D-seven are an all-male a'capella vocal performance group from Cape Town. Performing on some of South Africa's largest platforms with top national artists, D-seven have established themselves as a premier entertainment act with a high level of media currency.

Grovel - you just might. The men of D-seven certainly are a sight to match their sound, which is itself winning wide acclaim. The group is moving from strength to strength, having performed to packed crowds on some of the Mother City's premier stages, namely Rocking the Daisies, Artscape Theatre and Broadway, whilst catching the eye of producers at SABC 2 in the process. They've also performed with the likes of Arno Carstens, Louise Carver and Goldfish.

Fresh, vibrant, powerful, mature (with just the hint of an incorrigible wink), contemporary and downright damned good. These are the ideas and terms that make up the D-seven brand and identity, ideas which are lived out by each of the seven gents on stage and in life. So get on your feet or take a load off. Clap your hands, bite your lip or chill out. Open up your ears, eyes and your smile, D-seven is up.

SOMETHING FOR THE LADIES – THE INSIDE & OUT MAKE-OVER WORKSHOP

Relax and enjoy – Spend a fun afternoon with your colleagues discovering your inner and outer beauty!

In 4 hours, learn how to dress with confidence and pick up some truly useful wisdom about yourself and those around you. This team building event is uplifting and morale-boosting. Start the afternoon with a glass of bubbly, tea/coffee and snacks.

Anneline Black, a well-known make-up artist and make-over professional, will kick off the workshop with the secrets of make-up and the power of colours and positive body language.

After a short break Claudia Brandt – an experienced life coach – will introduce you to communication patterns that we all use: The Poor Me, the Aloof, the Interrogator and the Intimidator. I'm sure you have met them already in yourself or others. Learn how to identify and handle them. The focus is on fun, exploration and learning!
